BITS & PIECES

BY YE EDITOR

Principal Warren Edwards of Carmel High School says of the misbehavior which took place at the Sadie Hawkins' dance at the high school, "It's all too true, and I'm sure most of the community already knows it."

Said he, "There were not 10 suspensions, but 18. Some were related to misbehavior at the dance, some unrelated."

"It just seemed like a good week to crack down and wake some of the students up," he explained. In addition to the 18 suspensions, 3 students have been dropped from school this week and, "we are seriously considering dropping 5 more."

THE GREAT MAJORITY ARE WELL BEHAVED

Edwards wished to stress that, "ninety to ninety-five percent of the students were well-behaved. This is always true. A small amount of misbehaviors cause a ridiculously disproportionate amount of trouble."

He estimated that 70% of administrative and counseling time is given over to consideration of and dealing with that 5% of the students who are the chronic trouble-makers. He said it is not fair to the taxpayers, the faculty -- and above all -- not fair to those students who want to learn and who work at learning, to maintain the consistent miscreants as part of the student body.

"Either they buckle down and shape up, or we strongly encourage them to leave," he said.

Edwards said that his plea to the "good kids" at the student assembly was to take more responsibility for the behavior of those few others. "For example, I told them, if at lunch they see someone drop litter on the lawn, they can speak up and say, 'hey, how about throwing that in the trash bin?' If the misbehavers feel that others their age disapprove, they are more apt to 'shape up'," he felt.

MISBEHAVIOR NOT LIMITED TO YOUTH

In printing the details of the misbehavior at the high school, we had no intention of starting a "Tsk, tsk, what is the youth of today coming to?" sort of reaction. There are reports of some pretty childish and anti-social behavior at certain adult social gatherings in our community from time to time, and these incidents seldom "make the paper". It is part of human history that people of any age occasionally do things in groups of which, individually, most of them are later ashamed. And if youth is sometimes goaded by an excess of high spirits, adults are similarly spurred by an excess of bottled ones. Usually it would seem to serve no purpose to publicize unpleasant incidents in what is (we hope) a pleasant little community.

But when the misbehavior is the part of youth, we do think a purpose is served in publicity. First, they should understand that it is not merely parents and teachers (whose admonitions are apt to wear thin through the years) but the community as a whole which disapproves certain types of demeanor. They are more apt to learn from experience than their more ossified elders. Also, we think parents should know what is going on. Even if their own youngsters are not involved (and in 9 out of 10 cases, of course, they will not be), parents should know what sort of pressures, stimulations, etc., their own youngsters are subject to.

AND WHAT ABOUT THAT GIRLS' FIGHT?

In this vein, it would have seemed fitting to publish some of the facts about the fight in which five local girls were involved in the alley behind the stores on the Carmel Valley Village shopping strip recently. Rumors were rife, and because they remain merely that, we will not repeat them here. The facts, as given in skeletal form by juvenile officer Al Giovanetti, are that one girl was "badly beaten" and hospitalized after another girl "rode her horse aggressively towards her."

As all true horse-lovers know, horses intuitively avoid stepping on human beings. Whether we should call such instincts "humane" or "equine" is, under the circumstances debatable! Mr. Giovanetti said that in this case the horse did step on the girl's "foot, or heel."

UNUSUAL CASE

"Fights will occur in every school every semester," Mr. Giovanetti affirmed, "and in this particular case the juvenile authorities interested themselves first of all because the sheriff's deputy, who was called to the scene but was not actually present at the time of the fight, requested an investigation. Secondly, we were interested because of the degree, the seriousness, of the incident. The more we looked into it, the more alarming the proportions seemed."

Giovanetti would not issue the names of the 5 juveniles involved, but suggested that "there are other sources." The Sheriff's

Carmel High School News

(Ed. Note: Last week we received a news story from a Carmel High School student reporting that the Sadie Hawkins Dance was enlivened by charming decorations, nice refreshments, etc., and "a few minor incidents," but otherwise enjoyed by all. A few days later the startling report below arrived, unsolicited. Mercifully withholding the name of the young author, we print it instead, with the comments of Principal Warren Edwards, not to mention a few of our own, in Bits & Pieces, at left.)

deputy on the case stated, understandably, that he could not release the names unless his superiors authorized it. Sheriff Jack Davenport told the Outlook that "as soon as we turn a case over to the juvenile authorities, it's out of our hands--it's up to them."

SHOULD NAMES BE PUBLISHED?

Both Davenport and Giovanetti told The Outlook that they felt no useful purpose would be served in this case by releasing the names.

Although Giovanetti also declined to release the date of the hearing, the Outlook learned this much through "unofficial sources" and will attempt to have a report on this case for readers next week.

Whether or not the names of juvenile law-breakers should be released is an old question, one which has never been settled. We are beginning to think that in the case of repeated offenders -- of which, as we all know, the Valley has several -- some very public shame might help where nothing else seems to have done so.

-- B. B.

At a high school assembly Friday morning, our principal walked rather dramatically towards the center of the room, stepped up to the podium, and began to speak. He told us that our student body had set several records: a champion football team, a champion cross country team, and for the first time in the school's history, a dance had to be closed down.

He introduced the sophomore class sponsor who stated some of the activities going on at the dance: before the dance, several students had pushed a car on to the football field and released it, still rolling; some boys were on the school roof urinating into the path below; during the dance some students were smoking, and afterwards some slight damage had been done to a teacher's car.

As each item was described, the whole student body drew in their breaths sharply in simultaneous scandalization. Only one boy giggled and a teacher gave him at least a dirty look.

The result of this shocking behavior was 10 suspensions and a discontinuation of all social activities.

As the ponderous sentence was delivered, the assembly was dismissed after a reference also to litter and lunch-time behavior. Shame-faced, the students filed slowly out.

FIRE CALLS

The Carmel Valley Volunteer Fire Department made the following trips last week: to the A. A. Tegmeir residence on Laurel Drive at 12:05 on November 13. No damage resulted from a grass fire.

Firemen were called to the Cowan School November 16 at 7:00 p.m. where a student had stuffed a light socket with paper. No damage resulted. November 20 at 9:42 p.m. the washing machine motor burned out at the residence of Lt. Cmdr. Clifford Church, 79 Poppy Road.

Santa Arrives At Carmel Valley Airstrip This Saturday At One O'clock

Arriving by plane from the North Pole this coming Saturday, Santa Claus will land at the Carmel Valley airstrip to be met by local dignitaries and escorted by parade through Carmel Valley Village. There he will live in a "Gingerbread House" between the Carmel Valley library and the shopping strip, to receive visitors per schedule through Christmas.

The parade will begin at 1:00 at the airstrip, and all good Valley people are invited to join by going to Lupin Lane for its assembly. Such local institutions as the Carmel Valley Volunteer Firemen in their fine big red modern truck and the Carmel Valley Trail & Saddle Club drill team on their fine old-fashioned mounts will lead the march. The parade will proceed down Ford Road to Via Contenta to Pilot Road to DelFino Place, circle through Valley Center, return to C. V. Road to the Postoffice, and wind up at the Gingerbread House. Santa will greet old friends and young ones at his Valley headquarters for the remainder of that afternoon through 5:30. He will be away from the Valley after that for a few days as his presence is also needed in some less favored parts of the Peninsula.

Santa will return to the Valley and his specially-built adobe on December 9 where he will receive visitors from 1:00 p. m. to 5:30 p. m. He will hew to this schedule daily from that day through Christmas.

Mothers who will welcome the chance to have their smaller offspring visit St. Nick without having to be hauled from the Valley will also have opportunity to obtain photographs of their children sitting in Santa's lap. Ken Roberts of Monterey will take color photographs on December 13 from 3:00 to 5:00 p. m. and daily from December 16 through 24 during those hours. Four pictures, 2 wallet-sized and two 5" x 3 1/2", will be available to doting families for a total outlay of a mere $3.50.

To add appropriate solemnity to the festivities, there will be a Nativity scene on the hill behind Santa's Gingerbread House.

How did all this come about? A committee headed by Mr. and

Mrs. Don Swiss and Ken Van Hagen explains, "Every organization, independent merchant, and business in the Valley are co-operating to make this a real Christmas for our youth."

"So many people have given their time and energy it would take too much space to name them all and we'd probably leave out a few," Don Swiss declared.

Somebody has been busy, that's for sure!

Shetland Pony to be Given Away — for Pool

A Shetland Pony will be delivered to some lucky local youngster on Christmas Eve! Mrs. Phyllis Crockett is donating the pony to augment the swimming pool fund of the Carmel Valley Community Center. The recently organized Carmel Valley Student Youth Group has completed plans to sell tickets. These are now being printed and sales will commence this coming Saturday.

Tickets will be distributed to all local business houses and may also be purchased from any member of the new student group.

Puppets Return To Tantamount In 'Two Beans' Next Weekend

Those masterpuppet-showmen, Geddis and Martin, are letting their wooden actors take over the stage of Carmel Valley's Tantamount Theatre for two special Holiday matinees. The dates: Saturday and Sunday - December 7 and 8. Curtain time is 2:30.

The play is "Two Beans", one of the most popular in the repertory of this famous company of puppets who are now Valley residents. Based on an old Korean folk tale, it is the story of two brothers and the comical and fantastic adventures that follow the planting of two beans brought to each by a magpie with supernatural powers.

"A Rabbit Ballet", "The Trained Seal", and "Blue Danube Waltz" will round out the program after the single intermission.

All in all, a program chosen to delight children, their parents, and their grandparents and send them off in a happy Holiday mood, affirm entrepreneurs Ralph Geddis and Francois Martin.

Acting with Geddis, Martin, Jacklyn Cornelius and Jan Mauser, will be Bernie Kilpatrick, new comer to the Valley and "discovered" by The Outlook in its role of talent scout.

All seats are priced at $1.00 and because of the Tantamount's limited capacity, tickets should be reserved. Phone OL 9-2405.

Horse Tales by Allene Buchenroth

Some friends of mine had visited here on several occasions, and each time had watched with interest the almost magical ability of Beauford Clark, our local wizard of horsetraining. Three years ago they brought to him for instruction a beautiful 3-year old stallion, deep chestnut with flaxen mane and tail, called Smokey, but registered in the American Saddle Horse stud book as Rainbows Sensation.

The big colt stayed in Carmel Valley a year, learning slowly the things that stars of the showing must know ... This year he won the Pacific Coast fivegaited stallion championship ... and a mighty proud man was Beauford Clark.

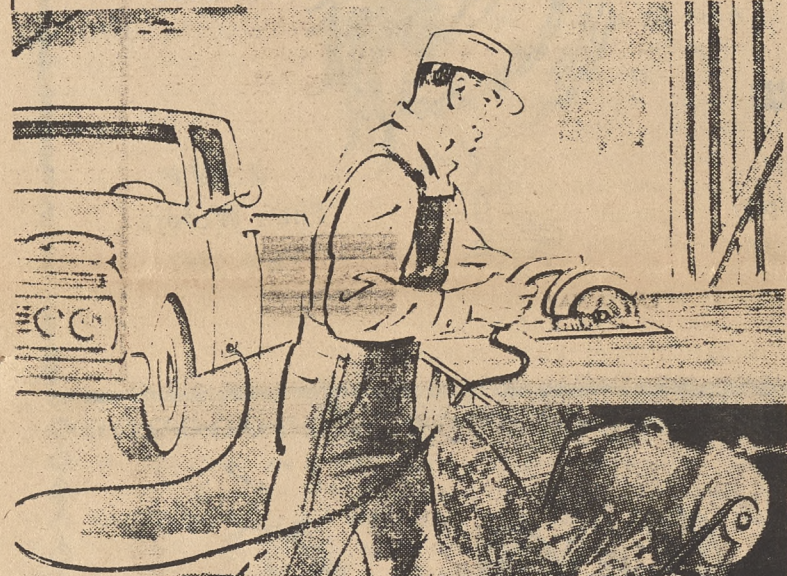

Last month his owners came again to the Valley, this time with two young candidates for Beauford's magic ... a slim elegant grey gelding and a sleek golden filly. They feel that these colts they have raised with love and much care have their best chance for a ribbon-filled future if they get their initial schooling with Mr. Clark.

Down in his river bottom paddocks, the latchstring is always out to us, his Valley friends, and he is ready with that bit of advice that makes the difference in our perplexity over our mounts or our pleasure in them. So stop in and call on the lovely kids from Washington, Ninja and Frankie ... and solve your latest horse problem with Mr. Clark's know-how.

Did you know that old horse men claimed that a good cuffing (brushing down, to you) is worth a pound of oats ... and that that feed of oats is twice as valuable to your horse if fed at least an hour after feeding hay? The reason is his long, long digestive tract. If you feed oats first the hay pushes it right through and it doesn't have a chance really to digest.

Open Play Day

On Thanksgiving

Thanksgiving day will be celebrated with an Open Play Day from 11:00 a. m. to 2:00 p. m. Spectators are cordially invited as are owners of horses.

The Trail & Saddle Club grounds will be used for the event. Landmarks for locating these are Los Laureles Lodge and the Porter Marquard Realty Co., located across the street from each other on Carmel Valley Road. Turn on Garzas Road, toward the Carmel River. The grounds are at the end of Garzas Road.

WITH 396 POINTS for the past "horse year", Miss Chris Halle was not only high point winner for the girls' division of the CV Trail & Saddle Club. She was high point winner for the whole club!

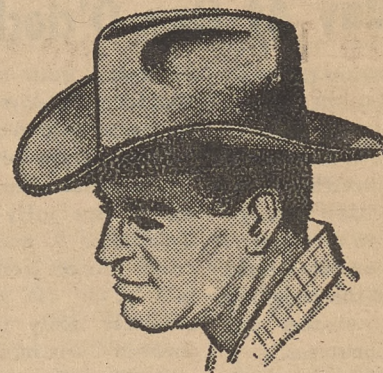

Horsemen's Interclub Banquet Held At CV Inn

Stan Holmes To Teach Dance Class - For Pool Fund

Carmel Valley residents and friends will gather for pre-holiday dance gaiety at the Carmel Valley Inn Tuesday evening, December 3 at 8:00 p. m. under the direction of Stan Holmes, professional instructor, in the first of a series of three two-hour lessons. Succeeding meetings will be held on December 10 and 17 from 8 to 10 p. m..

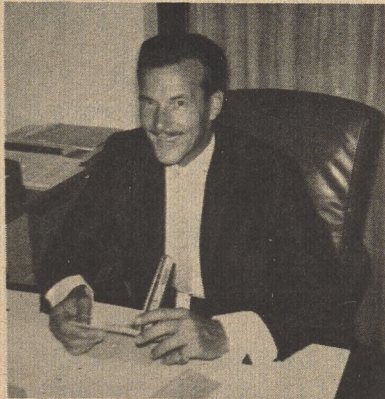

Mr. Holmes, 17 years associated with an internationally known dance organization, is contributing this top-flight instruction as a donation to the Community Center Swimming Pool Fund. The use of the ballroom and a percentage of the income is being contributed by Inn manager, Al Fry. Music from hi-fi records will be arranged by Mrs. Holmes with technical assistance from Andy Smith.

Thus the entire fee of $10.00 per person for the full six hours will go into the Swimming Pool treasury.

"Anyone can learn to dance," promises Stan, who is including the cha cha, bossa nova, tango, foxtrot, waltz, and swing on the program. "Remember, it's tax deductible. Let's enjoy ourselves so our children can enjoy the future," he adds. "Jump in!"

Reservations may be made at the Thunderbird Shop, 659-4060 and fees paid there or at the Inn Tuesday night before the first session.

STAN HOLMES

Newly Organized Student Youth Group Forwards Many Activities

BY BOB JONES, ADULT LEADER

The new CV Student Youth Group, under the sponsorship of the CV Community Center Board of Directors has been quite active during the past several weeks. One of their first projects was the selling of ice cream donated by Art Bennett and Lee McCaman, which netted $105 for the Community swimming pool fund.

During the following week, eight members of the group devoted one morning to the planting of new trees and shrubs in front of the Community Center building.

Still other members, under the chairmanship of Kit Parker, are selecting and showing movies at 1:00 and 3:00 p. m. every Saturday in the Community Center. Although the movies for the past two weeks have been of the "Abbott and Costello" variety, future attractions look very promising. Several of the "classics" have been ordered, and the calibre of movies will continue to improve as they become available on the distribution list.

Mixing fun with community service is a regular Saturday night event for the young people. Refreshments are provided by Dolores Berta and her refreshment committee girls. A variety of games, ping-pong, shuffleboard, listening to records and informal dancing have been a part of the past few Saturday evening gatherings.

Scheduled for December are a Christmas party and a combined play ride and Christmas carolling party that will visit various hospitals and institutions before touring the Valley, making frequent stops at homes along the way to sing and enjoy refreshments.

The new Student Youth Group is working on a constitution that will stress moral decency and community service in their many and varied activities.

Soil Conservation District Meeting

Flood control, watersheds, recreation, underground water, and water rights are among the topics up for discussion when the California Association of Soil Conservation Districts meets in Fresno next week, says Bob Wilson, chairman of Carmel Valley Soil Conservation District.

Monterey County Soil Conservation District supervisors and cooperators are expected to be among 500 delegates at the annual California Association of Soil Conservation District meeting in Fresno, December 2 - 5.

Beside Wilson, Hans Ewoldsen and Jean Cahoon, Carmel Valley SCD Directors will be among them.

Governor Edmund G. Brown will be among the speakers at the convention.

BOUTIQUE FOR VALLEY WOMEN'S CLUB

BY MAI STEPHENSON

Mrs. J. S. Stedman announces a Christmas Boutique at the Community Center in Carmel Valley on Wednesday the 4th of December. This will comprise the sale of Christmas decorations, small gifts, candy, fruit cake, nut bread and cookies, and will be a high spot of the final meeting of 1963 for the Carmel Valley Women's Club.

This meeting will begin at twelve o'clock with the serving of a Pot Luck luncheon. All members are urged to attend, and guests may be invited. Reservations are imperative -- do not forget to make yours early. The luncheon will be followed by a program to be presented by the Dance Group of the White Oaks Theatre, Mr. Gale Peterson, Choreographer. The Group is well known, and their work is always well received.

The Pot Luck luncheon is being arranged by Mrs. Robert Ziemer, assisted by the members of her committee: Mesdames Joseph Boudouin, Donn Schoneman, Conrad Olsen, Sam Baldwin, Jack Davidson and Miss Ruth Dodds.

It is hoped that all the members will come to the party, and bring guests. All the decorations and gifts will be sold to provide Christmas for many who would not otherwise have a Christmas. There is so much for which to be thankful at this time that it seems fitting to continue that spirit, carrying it all the way to Christmas and beyond. Don't forget - December 4th - at the Community Center - twelve o'clock - and plan to do your last minute shopping right there!

LOGAN HALL PTA

Logan Hall PTA met Wednesday, November 20. The business meeting was preceded by a coffee hour. Lloyd Swanson, director of special services for the Monterey School System discussed "Placement of the Mentally Retarded Child in the Public Schools."

JUNIOR HIGH JOURNALISM

PROFILE OF A NEW STUDENT

BY SHEILA GRUNWALDT

One of Carmel Junior High School's newest students is also one of the most active. Susan Wyckoff enjoys golf, horseback riding, and water skiing. As you can probably guess, her favorite class is physical education, along with Spanish and homemaking.

Susan was born in Orange, Connecticut, but she lived in Atlanta, Georgia before coming to Carmel, as her soft Southern accent betrays.

Susan described Atlanta to the reporter as a big city with no mountains or ocean. When I asked her what she thought about Carmel she simply said, "It's cute".

The thing that she misses the most is water skiing in Lake Lanier every weekend. Lake Lanier is a very large man-made lake just southeast of Atlanta.

Unfortunately for us, though, Lake Lanier will not be vacant of Susan's weekly visits for too long, because her family will probably move back to Georgia next year.

YOUTH CENTER REPAIRS

BY KATHY PROCTOR

On November 8, 9 and 10 the Carmel Youth Center, at Junipero and Sixth, was closed so that a few repairs and additions could be made.

The exterior of the building was painted, and all the shrubs were cut down, which greatly improved the appearance of the outside. Inside, a huge curtain was hung in the dance and ping-pong room, so that when it is closed, the ping-pong tables are separated from the juke-box area. Also, the laboratories were wallpapered.

Everything finished, the Youth Center is again opened for any one who wishes to come, members or non-members.

HIKERS

Tommy Turner, Doug Korpi, John Zimmerman, Robin Stevens, Mike Hutchison and David Baga were among those reviving interest in long-distance hiking recently - BUT NOT BY CHOICE! When it became evident that a broken down bus was just not going to make its appearance, the above students started their homeward journey - by foot!

WORKERS

Leon Gilmore, head custodian at CJHS, is recruiting students to work for him - some by choice and others just by

COMPETERS

Doug Borgegaard reports that CJHS boys are more competitive than ever, since several have acquired letter jackets. Doug points out that lucky award winners are also entitled to wear gold pins to tell which sport they play. Only boys who have earned the right to wear blocks (by meeting high standards) are allowed the privilege.

FORGETTER

The jig is up on art instructor Mr. Joe Broadman. Lance Crooks, ace reporter, informs us that Mr. Broadman, for the first time in nine years of teaching, forgot one of his classes recently. Among the cold characters standing in the weather were Susie Lang, Jack Campbell and Charlie Barker.

FOLKSINGERS

CJHS folksingers will be among the entertainers at the Carmel Youth Center Christmas Capers Miss Diana Hardy's dramatic classes have been doing a wonderful job of entertaining this year. Not only have the actors and actresses performed for their classmates at CJHS, but they have also given several performances at the Hacienda Carmel ... Glad to hear that David Ataide is recovering so nicely from his recent bout with mononucleosis

Christmas Program December 17

The advanced and beginning choruses of Carmel Junior High School will combine efforts to present a Christmas program on December 17th, in the CJHS gymnasium.

This will be the first appearance of the choir on the new choral risers. Among the selections to be heard will be "Manger

Carol" and "Jesus, Jesus, Rest Your Head." The advanced chorus will sing "Sing Gloria" and "What Child Is This?"

Soloists will be announced soon. A small ensemble of selected performers will offer several numbers to augment the evening of Christmas music. Mr. William Purdy is Choral Director.

Library is CJHS Center of Information

BY CONNIE HOOD

"Learning to use the library is one way," said Mrs. Thelma Stohr when asked how she felt the students of the Carmel Junior High School could benefit most from their library. The junior high librarian also stated that the use of the card catalogue would help students in their research work. Mrs. Stohr feels that the students should show their consideration for others by using the library, not as a social hall, but a place to study and read in silence.

From 86 to well over 100 books are checked out of the CJHS library each day. Mrs. Stohr's records also show that a minimum average of 318 students used the library daily during one week of school. When asked how she felt the library rated compared to those of other schools, she replied, "I really don't know." Then added later as she was thumbing through pictures of other school libraries, "But it's probably the most attractive."

Improvements on the library? "I couldn't even begin," she admitted, but then added that she would want more bulletin board space and higher shelves to accommodate the five or six thousand books contained in the library, all for the use of the teachers and students.

Hail the Noble Weeders!

BY KIT HAWKINS

The Carmel Junior High Campus is now looking much better with many of those unsightly weeds carted away. These are some of the noble people who are responsible for this act: the boys' gym class; students who have misbehaved (still noble, though!); and our janitors.

Special honors, though, go to volunteers who come to school to dig up weeds on Sundays. Mr. Warren Edwards, principal of Carmel High, was the first one to be inspired by this idea, and it was carried out by Peggy and Bill Edwards.

These hard working people are: Philip Goulding and Roberta Goulding in addition to Peggy Edwards and Bill Edwards.

"Since we are going to be at this school for three more years, we may as well make it as pretty as we can," comments Peggy, a seventh grader.

HOMEMAKING CLASSES DISPLAY TALENTS

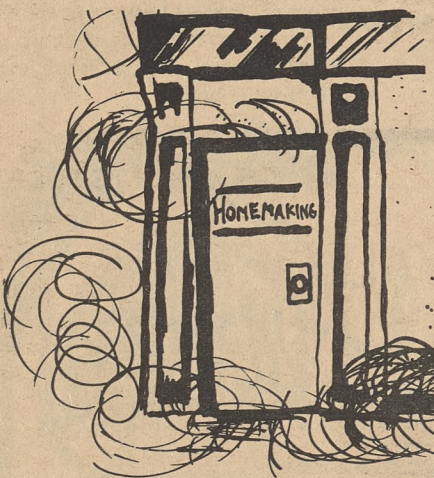

BY CHELSEA MILLER

The Carmel Junior High eighth grade homemaking students presented quite a feast when they prepared their first Buffet Breakfast of the year.

Kathy McGibney of the eighth period homemaking class said this, "The overall breakfasts went pretty well. The food, although not plentiful, was very good. Of all the things the centerpiece was best."

Among the dishes served at the breakfasts were eggs, bacon, cocoa, coffee, toast, biscuits of all varieties, muffins, hot cereal and orange juice.

Each of the classes invited teachers and friends.

GRA Banquet For Fathers

BY BONNIE MILLER

The GRA Father-Daughter Banquet held Wednesday, November 13, 1963, at 6:00 p. m., was a tremendous success. The banquet began with a delicious buffet dinner. Following the dinner Mrs. Jean White, GRA director, gave out GRA awards. Miss Barbara Coss was the sponsor for the evening.

After the awards were given out, both fathers and daughters went over to the gym and participated in either volleyball, ping-pong or bowling.

The fathers and daughters had a great time. Afterwards, the fathers were exhausted.

Mrs. Carter Bennett

Their friends in Carmel Valley have been saddened to hear of the death of Mrs. Jeanne Bennett, who was the wife of Capt. Carter L. Bennett, (USN, Ret.). With their sons, Michael and Peter, the Bennetts lived on Poppy Road in Carmel Valley while Captain Bennett was a staff officer of the Naval Postgraduate School. They visited here last Christmas and stayed briefly in their former residence which, by coincidence, happened to be vacant at the time.

Mrs. Bennett while in the Valley was an active horsewoman and continued her interest in succeeding years. Her recent death, in New Mexico, was the result of a fall from a horse.

LETTER TO EDITOR

Betty:

This was given to me by a friend and neighbor a long time ago... and I just hung onto it. Now I realize this little "Anonymous" represents more than I thought, mostly Garzas Rd. people that I have come to know and love as wonderful friends. If you like it, you can use it... (Garzas Rd. Resident)

Everytime one enters our front door, they can see two huge coffee pots sitting close by the entry. These pots have been there for weeks. I keep asking myself, "Why don't you put these things away in their proper place?" From way down deep comes an answer, "Because you like them there." Perhaps to me, a coffee pot is symbolic of good things, a pleasant conversation with friends & neighbors around a campfire, or a warm drink of cheer for one who is cold, tired, or depressed, or maybe these sturdy fellows signify food and warmth; you can't have coffee in a big pot without a fire. Maybe there should be a bed roll and a good beefsteak alongside then—warmth, food & lodging would all be together.

Some men work and strive and painfully kill themselves for money, position, & glory. Other men are content with a tasty meal, a comfortable home, and a few good friends. Which man has the answer to happiness? No one really knows, much less myself, but I am in favor of the simple life.

Free Babysitting Ads

Phone calls from Outlook subscribers indicate much demand for babysitters—in the daytime, especially. This means they seek women capable of supervising active runabouts, rather than more literally "sitting" as during evening hours when most children are asleep. Most mothers who call stress that they wish reliable, mature babysitters.

As a public service, the Outlook will publish free babysitting ads through the first week in January— for day OR evening, teen-agers or adults.

But—before you dash to the telephone, please note: To be accepted for the "free" column, a babysitting ad must be submitted in writing and accompanied by 2 written references— either personal or from past or present employers.

Obviously this newspaper cannot vouch for the character of all those who place ads. But babysitting is a job that entails so much important responsibility that we shall at least attempt to screen applicants roughly in this fashion. In our opinion, anyone who cannot furnish references or will not take the trouble to write a note is not a likely candidate for a child-care position.

References will be returned at once to the senders so that these may be shown to prospective employers on demand.

Your written advertisement and accompanying references may be mailed to the Outlook, Bin CC, Carmel Valley, or may be left at The Wells' Bookstore at Carmel Rancho Shopping Center, at the Outlook office (Dorris Drive at Center Street, near Farm Center), or at Bowers Pharmacy in Carmel Valley Village.

Crosby Foundation Has Set Aside $10,000 For CV Community Center Improvements

The Crosby Foundation has set aside $10,000 for the Carmel Valley Community Center to be used for improvements, equipment, and other expenses involved in establishing a true recreational center for young people, even though it cannot contribute directly to the Pool fund, Jim Smith, president of the Community Center announced early this week. Smith said the word had come to the group through one of the directors of the Foundation.

Encouraged by this news, the Center's enlarged and enthusiastic Swimming Pool Committee met last week to plan additional fund-raising projects to make possible the construction of the Carmel Valley pool early in 1964. Chairman Bob Jones and his co-workers agreed that it's "now or never" for the project.

Approximately $3500.00 has been donated during the current mail and phone campaign so far to add to the $8100.00 already in the Fund. The list of contributions in the form of materials and services is also growing.

The Committee estimates that in addition to the $28,400.00 for the pool contract, $6,600.00 more will be required for fencing, decking, showers, etc. to actually open the facility. They hope to secure enough cash, pledges, and materials in the next few weeks from a sufficiently large percentage of the community to warrant asking the Community Center Board of Directors to consider financing the balance needed by a long-term loan.

Board President Jim Smith and Pool Committee Chairman Jones therefore urge all those supporting the pool project and intending to contribute to please do so as soon as possible.

Pledge cards are available at the Bank of America, or they can simply be written out over the signature of the donor. All contributions are tax deductible.

FIRST AID

Members of the first aid crew from the Carmel Valley Volunteer Fire Department rendered aid last week to Freeman Johnson, 3110 Flower Circle in Marina following a chain saw accident. He was transported to Doctor Van Horn's office where 14 stitches were taken. The First Aid unit also treated for shock John Mason, Box 272, Carmel, following a one car accident when his car overturned at the Adobe Oaks Motel.

GLASENAPP BABY

Leslie Margaret, who arrived on November 14 at the Salinas Memorial Hospital, is the first child of Mr. and Mrs. Carl F. Glasenapp, Jr. of Carmel Valley.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl F. Glasenapp, Sr., of Del Rey Oaks are two of the proud grandparents. Also rejoicing is maternal grandmother Mrs. Lillian Nason -- also of Carmel Valley.

Saving at a bank is one of the best, most systematic ways there is to collect money. With your bank passbook you always know the amount of each deposit, the date of deposit, and the teller who took care of it. You also know that you can withdraw as much money as you want, whenever you want—without any fuss or bother. A savings account pays off in other ways, too. With regular interest computed daily. With special trust and loan services. And with the assurance that, when your money's in the bank, it couldn't be in a safer place.

CUB SCOUT NEWS

BY JEANNINE BOTTARO

With 33 members -- and membership still increasing, Cub Scout Pack 76 is off to a good start this year. An exceptionally fine group of parents has volunteered to be their adult leaders. Lt. Col. Jack Hermanson will be new assistant Cubmaster. The newly retired Army officer will fill a badly needed role, according to Ben Viljoen, Cubmaster who served the Pack last year without an assistant. Tom Steiny will continue as chairman with Frank Bresk as secretary.

Treasurer of the adult committee will be Mrs. Walter Avis, and awards keeper will be Mrs. Robert Harris. The Pack is now looking for a parent to be Denmother for Den 2 in the Robles del Rio area.

A large group of new Bobcats were welcomed into the Cubs when the Pack gathered recently at Tularcitos School Multipurpose Room. Steven Avis and Starker White, boys who kept themselves busy on Cub work all summer, won silver and gold arrows. Bill Viljoen won a silver arrow. All three Cubs are from Den 3.

DEN 1
Mrs. M. A. Huss, new Denmother for Den 1, was introduced. With her were her Cubs, mostly boys living in the Village area north of C. V. Road, and including Robert Dimitrijevic, David Englebrecht, Ross Meikeljohn, George Eckerd, Bif Huss, Dirk Whitaker, Bryan Brunner, and Bruce Hill.

DEN 3
Mrs. Robert Ray is the only Denmother who will continue this year to lead her den. At the Pack meeting, her boys of Den 3 demonstrated the regular Pack procedure with Bill Viljoen and Joe Bottaro presenting colors. (In the coming Pack meetings Dens winning inspection and attendance records will carry the flags.) Robby Ray gave the denner's report and Steve Avis gave a summary of their summer activities in his scribe's report. Timmy

DEN 5
Mrs. Tom Steiny will be Denmother for Den 5 this year. Four Bobcats who received their badges at the meeting include Robert Harris, Michael Wellborn, Robert Otter and Jason J. Johnson. Other members, all Wolves, include Douglas Steiny, Bryce Lee and Kevin Horan. These are boys living in La Canada area.

DEN 6
Den 6 will have as its new Denmother Mrs. Dale Hair of Via Petra. All its members are brand new, each boy winning his Bobcat badge at the Pack meet. They include Robin Hair, Vincent Frumkin, and Michael Anderson. The boys live near the Farm Center area.

To motivate the boys to higher achievements, the Pack will award hand carved neckerchief slides to members of the "honor den" each month. Honor Den will be the one winning the most awards, with two points given for badges and one for arrows.

Fourth Grade Poetry
Mrs. John Holmes who teaches at Tularcitos asked us to print these exuberant tributes to the season by two of her fourth graders:

The Pilgrims landed at Plymouth Rock--with a nick and a knock and a splash and a dock.
I felt so happy I swam to the dock--with a nick and a knock and a splash and a dock.

Now today is Thanksgiving--with a nick and a knock and a splash and a dock.

PILGRIMS BY BUD GUIN BANKS

The Pilgrims ran like mad. Some were caught and others just sad. They didn't think their religion was bad. They thought it was good--or as good as it should; or as good as it ever would.
When they were sailing, they had to start bailing; they hoped the Mayflower had enough power to sail the high seas. So, they prayed please with ease.
After, the food got sour on the Mayflower.
But soon they saw land. Oh no, they weren't sad--they were glad!

FROM THE BENCH BY CARL BERNHARD

FOOTBALL

Last week Hartnell College of Salinas clinched a bid to the Lettuce Bowl November 30. They did so at the expense of Monterey Peninsula College, beating them 24-8. The game never was in doubt as the highly favored Panthers from Salinas used their far greater size and depth to keep up the pressure on the outmanned Lobos. MPC lost several key men this year and went into the game with a makeshift line and an oft-juggled backfield. Monterey fans had only one hope and that was that they could make up for physical handicaps with high spirit and pull off an upset. MPC has been very successful at this as Hartnell has been upset two years in a row before this game even though they were heavy (literally) favorites. This time Hartnell had spirit and size, which, along with skill, is highly desirable from a coaches' standpoint needless to say.
Hartnell ended up undefeated in league play while Saturday's loss shoved Monterey into third. Hartnell will face Santa Rosa JC in the Lettuce Bowl game.
As a sidelight to the game, it is apparent that some of the color of the traditional MPC-Hartnell game has been lost since the game has been switched from Thanksgiving Day to the present date in order to leave time for the now-common Bowl game bids. In this case, however, it was best to get it over with -- I think.

CARS

To completely change the subject, it now seems that the Peninsula "Fearsome Foursome" of auto racers is in the midst of change. Ed Leslie and Charles Parsons of CV are selling their Lotus 23's, Parsons' car being owned by Randy Hilton, also of CV, Don Wester and Jack Flaherty of Monterey are selling their Borsche and Geris respectively. Parsons will drive the new Sunbeam with a Ford V-8. This could give Ford a winner both in A production (Cobra-Ford) and the Sunbeam in B production. Maybe Leslie can persuade Triumph to put Chevies or Chryslers in their cars!

Christmas Tree Crop At Saddle Mountain

A Christmas Tree project started in 1956 with 2 year old seedlings in a large transplant bed at the top of Saddle Mountain Ranch will yield its first "crop" this year. Families or individuals who would enjoy cutting their own tree should call Milt Frumkin at 624-1617 for an appointment in December. Trees will be tagged in advance if desired. Some trees will be cut and brought down the mountain to the recreation grounds by the owner.

Boy Scouts Need Neighborhood Commissioner

If there is a man interested in Boy Scouts and Explorer Scouts to spend a few hours a month, thereby keeping them in contact with the rest of the Scouting world, Glenn Salyers is looking for him.

Area Commissioner Salyers says that there is a great need in the Valley for a neighborhood commissioner, someone who would be willing to help the unit leaders to give their boys the best program possible and to help Scouting progress in the Valley.

A neighborhood commissioner keeps Boy Scout troops and Explorer Scouts in closer contact with the Council and with each other. He does this by attending a committee meeting once a month at the Presidio, and by visiting each one of his units once a month either personally or by phone.

Rummage Sought

Doing your pre-holidays house cleaning? Or trying to make space in the closets for hiding Christmas presents? Or just plain tired of seeing that junk around? The women of the Altar Society of Our Lady of Mt. Carmel Church suggest that this is a good time, whatever your reason, for giving odds and ends to their committee who will spend from now to July getting them ready for the Sala-rama.

Ruth Allaire, 659-2752, Myrna Weber, 659-4242, and Pat Cummings, 659-2902, may be contacted for pick up. The annual event has become a popular one for many Valley women who find better-than-average quality bargains at the July sale. One favorite feature is the potted plants that are already being gathered. The committee reports that some fine China is already waiting on the shelves. Proceeds from the sale go to furnish and refurbish the altar and to outfit the altar boys of the Church. The group is always anxious to use more workers and urges anyone interested in helping to contact its members.

CHAPEL HIGH SCHOOL DISCUSSION GROUP

Mrs. George Greer is starting a Christian Study and Discussion group for senior high school students. Mrs. Greer, who is Chairman of the Christian Education Committee of Carmel Valley Community Chapel, will lead the group on those Sundays when she is in the Valley. She was for many years advisor to a senior high youth group in her home church in Indiana.

It is planned that the meetings will be held in homes of the members where it is feasible. All Valley young people in the high school age bracket will be welcome, including 9th graders. The group met for the first time in Mrs. Greer's home last Sunday afternoon and enjoyed a light supper following their discussion.

WHY BIRDWATCHING ?

By R. P. Parsons

(Ed. Note: Friends of Dr. R. P. Parsons of Carmel suggested that he would be the ideal person to write an article describing the various species of birds in the Valley. A retired naval physician, Dr. Parsons has been a resident of the Peninsula for well over a decade. He served in both World Wars as a captain, was commander of a hospital ship in the South Seas. He's held numerous offices in the Audubon Society since his retirement. He agreed to write the article identifying our local birds on condition that he first be allowed to describe the pleasures and purposes of birdwatching in general--as below.)

WHY BIRDWATCHING?

There are people who are bird-watchers and those who are non-birdwatchers, the latter vastly outnumbering the former. The non-birdwatchers; that is, those who know that there is such a thing as an interest in birds (there are many people who never even heard of birdwatching), think that birdwatching is a queer pursuit and that bird-watchers have a perverted idea of how best to spend some leisure time or in what phase of the outdoors one might develop a familiarity that would be rewarding in one way or another. Birdwatchers feel that non-bird-watchers are missing one of the most engaging and enjoyable facets of nature, and perhaps some birdwatchers look at non-birdwatchers with something of the attitude with which a music lover would regard a tone-deaf person, or an art connoisseur views one who has never seen the inside of an art gallery, or as a librarian might feel about someone whose reading has never extended beyond the comic book or crime story level.

Of course, there are a thousand different degrees of interest and enthusiasm among birdwatchers, ranging from the passion that flamed in the souls of people like Audubon and Alexander Wilson, down to the interest of those who can, and like to, identify correctly the dozen or so birds commonly seen around their yards or immediate neighborhoods, and who can recognize their song, or notes, and who know something of their habits, habitat and other characteristics.

To correct a misconception, many people think that a hunter is an anti-birdwatcher and a strictly non-birdwatcher. Nothing of the kind. The hunter knows the manner of flight, the silhouette, the call, the habitat, the migration pattern and many other important and interesting characteristics of game birds. In effect, he is a birdwatcher, whether he realizes it or not. The big difference is that his interest is (usually) limited to birds on the game list. If he is an intelligent and thoughtful hunter, he has another thing in common with the (general) bird-watcher. They are both interested in conservation and preservation, even if for different reasons.

Now, let us enumerate what might be considered the minimum requirements for qualification as a birdwatcher, not the Ph.D. ornithologist sort, but just a good, average one with enough interest and knowledge to get some enjoyment and satisfaction out of the hobby.

1. An inquiry into why birds are built the way they are. Why, for example, do swallows, woodpeckers, hawks, ducks, gulls, all have structures that are quite different, that group them into families, and enable them to lead the kinds of life they must live to survive?

2. Familiarity with habitats--so as to know where to look for various species and to help in their recognition.

3. Familiarity with manner of flight and silhouettes so that recognition may be possible without a close view or a prolonged observation.

4. The ability to make quick mental notes of the size and distinctive markings so that one may refer to books for quick identification.

5. A willingness to listen to song and notes, endlessly if necessary, to couple the sound with the sight of the bird. In the language of pundits--audio-visual correlation.

6. Know in what seasons certain common species are present or absent.

7. Be able to recognize at least 20 of the species commonly seen (at one season or another)

New Offices for Waters, White, Mrs. Hoisington

Three well-known Valley residents have opened offices this week on the Carmel Valley Village shopping strip next to the Carmel Valley cleaners (in the former location of Corona's delicatessen).

Tom Waters, representative of New York Life Insurance Company, will share offices with a branch of the George Dovolis Real Estate Agency which has for several years been represented in Carmel Valley by local residents Ballard White and Elizabeth Hoisington. The quarters have been repainted and redecorated; the entire Waters family, noted for its pulchritude, was seen Sunday helping Mr. Waters affix the new gold letters to the office window.

Homeowners Ask Minimum Changes For CV Road

BY DOROTHY REED

Proposed plan lines for Carmel Valley Road between Los Laureles Grade and Ford Road were presented to about 30 interested and voluble property owners Monday afternoon under the auspices of the CVPOA. Viewing Planner James Campbell's enlarged map of the area, the audience demonstrated familiarity with every curve, rise, building, aspect of terrain, and nearly every individual piece of vegetation. They raised points ranging from the observation that four lanes in any form will ruin the Valley's peace and picturesqueness to sharp questions about the value of land that lies within the plan lines but is not eligible for purchase by the County until the start of construction, predicted variously from 10 to 100 years hence.

Property owner Carmelo Panetta evidently summed up the group's feeling in recommending that for this particular stretch of road the present roadbed be adhered to as closely as possible, and the divider strip be reduced to the minimum that would support landscaping. He won applause by suggesting that land be taken as equally as possible from the cliff as well as the bench side of the road.

"I planted my trees and raised them so they are like children to me," he said, "while there is no beauty in the sagebrush on the other side." He suggested too that his generation had worked hard for the beauty it would like to enjoy and that future generations will solve their problems in their own way.

Applauding again, the group broke up so amiably that one spectator observed, "Too good to be true," to Chairman Sigourney, who rejoined, "Just wait till tonight!" Consideration of plan lines from Laurel Drive through the Village was scheduled for the evening.

Filler

Many motorists are forgetting the spare tire in their car. The California State Automobile Association reports that when its trucks answer calls for flat tires, the service man often finds that the spare tire is in need of repair or has not been properly inflated. All five tires will wear more evenly and give longer life if they are rotated, says the California State Automobile Association.

LATE, LATE BULLETIN

'Last Road Meeting' Report

"There will be no more public meetings concerning Carmel Valley Road before Campbell presents the tentative plans to the County Planning Commission," said a tired John Sigourney as he telephoned the Outlook with a "late bulletin" at 11:45 p. m. following two such meetings in one day. (Monday.)

"I'm tired of these meetings myself," said Sigourney. "I've lost count."

The CVPOA president gave this account of what went on Monday night:

James Campbell, planning consultant jointly retained by the county and the property owners, made the point that "either we provide for the future or we will have to let the future take care of itself." He felt we would pay a heavy price if we allowed the latter to happen.

Harold Sands, realtor, told the assembled property owners and merchants that he felt it important to set planlines now. There would be no decrease in property values, he prophesied, but rather an increase because uncertainty would be thus overcome.

Lou Gardner spoke on behalf of approximately 75% of the owners of commercially zoned land, a group including virtually all the large owners, he said. They are in agreement that the 4 lanes should by-pass Carmel Valley Village entirely. They do not feel that they can select a definite route -- that is up to the County -- but will present to the county a letter signed by all of them making clear their wish that the route -- neither half of it! -- go through the commercial area.

Paul Cooper, chairman of the Road Committee which began the present investigations and planning, told the audience that he thought the Valley could live with locally generated traffic, but that the by-pass proposal bothered him. An obvious invitation to the State Highway Department, he opined, would be a 4-lane road by-passing a Village.

Bob Kvenild stated that he did not feel 4 lanes is needed from Farm Center to the Village, not on the basis of a 10,000 population potential for the Village area.

Sigourney summed up the comments with this one of his own: "Nobody agreed on anything, tonight."

An unanswered question still under investigation is whether the concept (forwarded by some) of a pair of 2-way roads would be eligible for federal funds, as a pair of 2-lane 1-way roads are known to be.

Consultant Campbell showed the audience still another alternative plan. This one cut south approximately opposite Pilot Road, to pass between the Community Chapel and the Valley Center Professional building and emerge in the vicinity of White Oaks Theatre. Sigourney said the general reaction to this one seemed "fairly accepting, at least comparatively," although one merchant registered strong objections following the meeting.

Campbell also offered a further solution: it might be possible to have a 1-way pattern within which a 2-way road -- the present one -- could be maintained. Around the present Village with its 2-way 2-lanes, there would be, counter clockwise, a southerly loop east and a northerly route west. (How about that?)

Campbell told the group that setting the planlines would not necessarily mean construction. "If you don't need or want a road, you won't have it."

Sigourney said that a date would be set for a Planning Commission hearing at which Campbell would present what he considers to be the most logical solution to the road problem, perhaps with one or two alternatives.

"Then it will be up to the people to finish working it out with the County at the public hearing," Sigourney said.

NEWS FROM HACIENDA CARMEL

by Edward G. Petherick

PRESIDENT PASSES

Members of Hacienda Carmel were deeplygrieved and shocked to hear of the death of President John F. Kennedy. We extend our deepest sympathy to his family.

TOURING MEMBERS RETURN

Home again after a tour of Canada and the U. S. are the Clayton Elliotts. Also returned to the fold are Jane Barrows, Helen Sevier, and Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Dresser.

MEMBERS LEAVE

Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Churchill have sold their apartment and are returning to their former home in Hemet. The warm, dry air of that area is more to their liking and better for the health of Mrs. Churchill.

CHAIRS ARRIVE

Casa Fiesta, our new auditorium, in in operation at last. Three hundred chairs arrived Firday, and card tables are now placed. An organ recital was held there on Sunday, and on Thanksgiving Day a program of colored slides of the South Pacific and Spain will be presented by Mrs. Eugene Harvill, a guest of member Jessie Small.

POTLUCK DINNER

On Monday, December 2, a potluck dinner will be held in Casa Fiesta after which we will be entertained by students from the Carmel Junior High School in a play directed by Miss Diane Hardy, who teaches the class in drama.

CASA TERMITE

The woodworking group is now busily engaged in building tables and easels for the art clas taught by Miss Donna Davis. It is also erecting more shelves in the library and making tables for the potluck dinners.

THANKSGIVING DAY

An elaborate dinner has been planned for Thanksgiving, and many of the members are planning to stay here for the holiday.

Thirty-two of California's 58 county names are of Spanish origin. Fourteen are of Indian origin and 12 stem from English or other tongues.

From the Editor's Mailbag

Have you ever seen a brown, yellow, or green-white pelican? The U. S. Fish and Wildlife Service has just completed color marking young white pelicans, so chances are you will!

In an attempt to determine movements of specific breeding colonies in relation to exposure to pesticides, 47 brown-white pelicans were released at Clear Lake, 89 yellow-marked birds at Lower Klamath, etc. These colored birds are now beginning to leave their nesting areas. Success of the project depends upon reports received of sightings. Persons sighting colored birds are asked to advise date, location, color, and number sighted to James Keith, Bureau of Sport Fisheries and Wildlife, University of California, Davis, Calif.

in your immediate neighborhood. This will lead you to want to make further acquaintances, and in the course of 10 years, if you keep records, which you should, the list will expand to about 80 species in any Carmel Valley yard--some species by dozens every day in the year and others about once in 10 years. Of course, if you want to wander to all parts of the Peninsula, the list could grow to 150.

In another column I hope to introduce you to the dozen or so birds most commonly encountered in Carmel Valley.

Rex White Is New President of CV Chamber

Rex White, proprietor of Princes Camp in upper Carmel Valley, last week was elected 1964 president of the Carmel Valley Chamber of Commerce by its recently elected board of directors.

Tom Hefling, manager of the Carmel Valley branch of the Bank of America, was elected vice president; Kenneth Van Hagen, manager and part owner of the Carmel Valley General Store, secretary, and Tom Verga, who owns commercial property in Carmel Valley Village, treasurer.

EDUCATORS MEET

Representing the Valley at the meeting at the Monterey High School last week of CASSA, California Association of Secondary School Administrators, were William Malek, Fred Pomeroy and Mrs. Dana Newman. The featured speaker for the evening was Dr. Mathieu Gustav, a foreign language specialist.

DIAZ-ESPINOSA

Josie Espinosa of Salinas was married to Dean Diaz, Jr., on November 9 at St. Mary's Church of the Nativity in Salinas. Dean is assistant manager of Plaza Linda, the new Mexican restaurant on Del Fino Place in Carmel Valley. The young couple will live in Salinas.

JUDY IS SIX

Miss Judy Koon held her sixth birthday party at the White Oaks Coffee Shop on November 23, with ten of her first grade classmates helping her to celebrate. Judy, is the adopted Chinese daughter of Master Sgt. and Mrs. John Koon of Carmel Valley. Her father is now serving with the U. S. armed forces in Viet Nam.

Before you become involved with all of those holiday preparations may we heartily recommend a drive up the Valley? Fall has been busy dipping into her paint pots! The yellows of the sycamores and poplar trees, with of course the reds of old debbil poison oak, draped with the fantasy grey-green of Spanish moss, above a carpeting of grass made intensely green by our recent rains present almost enough collected beauty to carry one clear through until Easter!

A number of Valley families made the trip to San Mateo last weekend to enter their dogs in the San Mateo Dog Show. Returning with winners were the Dirk Wilsons and the Jay Porters.

Mr. and Mrs. Nicholas Trovich and children of Fresno were guests last week of Mr. and Mrs. Lee Perry and Mr. and Mrs. Jack Sager ... This week's old oak leaf cluster goes to Teena Perry who shot and killed a fox near their home on the river. The animal shelter had diagnosed the animal's strange behavior pattern as dis-temper.

Nancy Walker, like her other third grade classmates, is enjoying their current Hawaiian project so much that she decided to celebrate her ninth birthday with a luau. Her guests wore paper leis and were given button mums with which to string a lei of fresh flowers. Entertainment included a hula danced by Molly O'Neal. Other dinner guests were Leslie, Diane, and Heather Golden, Karen Stone, Kim Baker, Heidi Hattan, and Tricia Gardiner.

Brownie Scout Troop #2094 held Investiture Ceremonies and a Mother's Tea recently in the social room of Our Lady of Mount Carmel Catholic Church. Invested were Leslie Campbell, Nancy Reams, Jane Ann Upp, Gail Gayman, Bonnie Hendrix, Sue Wright, and Robyn Fraser. Four year pins were awarded to Connie Scott, Susan Klas, Sydney Richards and Cynthia Mausey. The tea marked the final project of their leader Mrs. Robin Scott, who is now working full time and unable to continue with the troop to whom she has devoted so much time and work. Replacing her will be Mrs. James Tombleson assisted by Mrs. John D. Upp.

Tularcitos parents, faculty and students welcomed a new addition to the teaching staff last week with the addition of Miss Lillian Hoehn. Miss Hoehn is originally from San Mateo and received her training at San Jose State. She has recently been associated with the Milpitas School District. She will pilot the school's third class of fourth graders with a current enrollment of twenty students.

Mrs. Frank Lang of Rancho Chupinos was hostess at a Fall tea on Saturday honoring Miss Janet Lucille Brauss, bride elect of John Paul Church. The rooms were decorated with mums in fall shades. Mrs. Howard A. Stephens, who poured was seated at a beautifully appointed all-white tea table centered with giant white chrysanthemums. Assisting Mrs. Lang in the receiving line were Mesdames John B. R. Cooper, Merwyn Ballard and Cyril Church. Attending were Mesdames Albert W. Berquist, Clo Wind, Arthur Metz, Virgil O. Miller, Ellise Willson, Grant Risdon, Joseph Monhollan, Earl Church, James Strang, Willis T. Abby, Ben Norwood Sr., Calvin Hill, Joseph Aliotti, C.L. Kier, Michael Smith, Mayme Edwards and Francis Harrison.

Janet is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Brauss of Felton. John is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Cyril Church of Pacific Grove. He is a descendant of the Boronda family of the Valley. They have chosen January 5 as their wedding date. The ceremony will take place in St. Angela's of Pacific Grove.

With their daughter and son in law, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Drew, grandchildren, Leslie, Greg and Alan, and a host of friends made on previous trips to the Valley, Mr. and Mrs. Hal C. Wright had a ready made welcome awaiting when they arrived last week to become permanent Valley residents. They are formerly of Arlington Heights, Illinois, where Mr. Wright retired in July. Their arrival coincided with Alan's fourth birthday. Big sister, Leslie, assisted with party preparations for guests who included Paula Meyers, Winifred Reuter, Jeffery Schenck, Loren Davis and Petey Sherry.

A speedy recovery to Clyde Hitchcock who was taken to the Community Hospital Tuesday evening November 19 following a heart attack.

Musical Program For Woman's Club

Mrs. Romona Gahl, General Chairman of the Christmas party at the Carmel Woman's Club, forecasts a gala event on Wednesday, December 11th. The party, for members only, will start at 2:30 p.m. with a luncheon.

A musical program arranged by Mrs. Rhea Diveley will follow, featuring the Harmony Hill Trio under the direction of Rev. H. M. M. Nicholas, violinist, widely known for his work with the Monterey Symphony Orchestra and many concerts. Mr. John Farr, Head of the Music Department of Carmel High School, will be the soloist and will lead in the singing of Christmas carols by members. He, too, is well known on the Peninsula for his work as church orchestra and choir director.

Floral decorations of the clubhouse and tables will be arranged by Mrs. Alexander Cleary. Each member is asked to wear to the meeting a bright, shiny boutonniere (artificial flowers, please) which will be left for use in the club's community participation during the Christmas season.

Those members who care to stay after the program for social get-togethers or cards are invited to do so.

Reservations must be made by or on December 4th with either Mrs. George E. Black, 624-1712 or Mrs. Clifford L. Be Vier, 372-8959, or Miss Josephine Peard, 372-9317.

To Hear Actress

BY TESS SEDWEEK

A delightful program in keeping with the Christmas season is to be given for members of the Carmel Woman's Club by Margaret Woodall, known throughout the Pacific Coast for her versatility in one-woman performances. Her experience in theater, radio and television has abundantly prepared her for her capsule versions of well loved dramas and musicals. Some critics have termed her "the actress with a hundred voices", for she assumes with lightening swiftness the vocal characteristics and mannerisms of each role. From Seattle to San Diego, newspaper critics have praised her performances in "Private Lives", "Born Yesterday", "Little Foxes", "Life with Mother" and others.

For her opening performance before the Carmel Woman's Club, Miss Woodall has chosen the story of "Raphael, the Herald Angel", a beautiful, moving story with touches of sweet humor about Raphael, the lovable choir director in Heaven. It is he who composes the celestial hymns sung by the cherubim and all the other angels. Mood music is interlaced with dialogue and narrative throughout the story, along with the 100-voice choir of the Mormon Tabernacle.

This regular meeting is scheduled for Monday, December 2 at 2:00 p.m. in the clubhouse on San Carlos Street.

Connie Lea Loveday Is Mrs. Larry Clark

Connie Lea Loveday became the bride of Laurance Beekman Clark on November 9 at 11:00 a. m. in the Highlands Inn Chapel. Chaplain George Markel, USN Ret., performed the double ring ceremony.

Connie was given in marriage by her father, Thomas Johnson of Campbell, California. She wore a white satin floor-length gown with long sleeves, round neck, and an elbow-length silk illusion veil caught to a pillbox cap. She carried a bouquet of white spider chrysanthemums.

Sallie Abbott Clark, sister of the groom and a Kappa Kappa Gamma sorority sister of Connie's at San Jose State, wore a royal blue silk dress and carried light green spider chrysanthemum. She was maid of honor.

The bride's mother, Mrs. Thomas Johnson, wore a deep pink silk gown, tiny matching feathered hat, and a white orchid corsage.

David Dick of Carmel Valley was best man, and David Town of Carmel was usher.

Larry is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Archie G. Clark, Jr., of Rancho Rio Vista, Carmel Valley. Mrs. Clark wore a soft blue silk Shantung suit, veiled cap, and carried a white orchid corsage.

A reception was held for 50 guests in the Point Lobos Room at Highlands Inn, after which the young couple left for a brief wedding trip to the Cabana in Palo Alto. A longer honeymoon will take place next January with a trip to Hawaii scheduled for that time.

The parents of the groom will give a reception in honor of the young couple early next month.

The bride will be student teaching in this area until she graduates from San Jose State this June, and plans to teach here next year. The groom is manager of the Carmel Sport Shop.

Connie Lea's grandmother is Mrs. William Lackey of Campbell; Larry is the grandson of Mrs. Edward Cunningham of Seattle.

Mr. and Mrs. Clark are at home at 16 E. Ford Road, Carmel Valley.

There are four national parks, eight national monuments and 17 national forests located in the State of California.

MPC LECTURER

Dr. J. Wesley Robb, associate dean of humanities at the College of Letters, Arts and Sciences, University of Southern California, will be "visiting lecturer-in-residence" at Monterey Peninsula College December 2 to 6.

Following in the tradition of earlier lecturers-in-residence Sidney Hook, James Baldwin, Margaret Mead and John Mason Brown, Dr. Robb will address classes and meet with students and faculty throughout the week, lecturing in the Armory on his final evening on campus.

Overall theme for the week is

"Values and Contemporary Man."

Dr. Robb will also use this subject as the topic for his public address Friday, December 6, at 8:00 p. m. No tickets will be required for admission to this lecture.

MARJORY LLOYD CONVALESCING

Mrs. Frank (Marjory) Lloyd, Carmel Editor for the Carmel Valley Outlook, is convalescing at her home following corrective ear surgery last week. Her contributions (including the "Spike Heel" column) will be evident in the Outlook once more next week.

Dr. Charles Pearson Elected President Of New Community Church

The new Community Church of the Monterey Peninsula met last Friday in the Parish Hall of All Saints Episcopal Church in Carmel to adopt articles of government and elect officers and staff for 1964.

Dr. Charles Pearson, the new President, announced that charter members of the new church number two hundred, one hundred twenty-five of whom were present at the meeting. Selected for Vice-president, Secretary and Treasurer are Mrs. Dudley Swim, Mrs. Walter Burde and Mr. A. G. Mott, respectively.

Activities of the new church are divided into seven departments, and selections of members to head these departments are Mrs. Charles McDaniel, director of Worship Services; Mrs. A. W. Elkington, director of Fellowship; Mr. Zoltan Vasvary, director of Education; Mrs. L. J. Fletcher, director of Missions; Mr. J. B. Pruitt, director of Membership; Colonel A. H. Black, director of Property Stewardship and Mr. A. G. Mott, director of Finance.

The officers and department directors, together with two members-at-large, Mrs. Julian von Meier and Mr. Leo J. Miller, form the Board of Governors, the management-body of the church.

A fellowship hour followed the meeting with hostesses Miss Carmen Remini, Miss Maud Hook, Miss Zeala Broadbudd, Dr. Paula Tobias, Mrs. Floyd Harber and Mrs. Zoltan Vasvary.

Until further notice Sunday worship services will be held in the Golden Bough Cinema Theatre, Carmel, at 11:00 a. m..

Carmel Youth Center

Christmas Capers

The annual Christmas Capers, produced by the Carmel Youth Center as its gift to the community, will again be at the Sunset School Auditorium on December 13th and 14th.

The show will be directed by Mrs. Jean Beal and will begin at 7:45 p. m.

There is no admission charge and all persons are welcome to attend.

Youth Bowl Day

On November 29th there will be a Youth Bowl day at the Cypress Bowl. The proceeds will go to the youth centers on the Peninsula.

It will begin at 9:00 a. m. until 6:00 p. m. "Help make the centers safe and centered," is the slogan for the bowling project.

Senora Baiza Roca of Mallorca, Spain, (left) and Senora Alomar Jessa, wife of the Mayor of Palma, capital of Mallorca, chat with Mrs. Beulah Powers of Carmel Valley at the Mission. Mrs. Powers entertained at dinner Saturday night for those members of the Spanish group whom she had previously known in Spain.

Senor Dr. Don Antonio Baiza Roca, president of the Friends of Father Junipero Serra Association, presents the medal of the association to Father Juan Oronoz, a Spanish priest, presently a member of the Mission clergy, during ceremonies at Carmel Mission Basílica last Sunday morning. At left is Senor Don Miguel Ramis Maragues, director of Petra's Serra Museum. At right is Harry Downie of Carmel, authority on Serra and the California Missions, who has been in charge of much of the restoration of Carmel Mission and also has visited Petra in the course of his research.

Ceremonies for Spanish Dignitaries on Serra's 250th Anniversary

Beside historic Carmel Mission Basilica stand Spanish dignitaries here to commemorate the 250th anniversary last Sunday of Father Junipero Serra, their countryman, founder of the California missions. The Spanish visitors came as official guests of Carmel, sister city to Petra, Spain. This summer Mayor Eben Whittlesey of Carmel visited Petra, and participated in similar ceremonies at Serra's birthplace on Mallorca.

TRAGIC COINCIDENCE

Official ceremonies in Spain were cancelled toward the end of their visit because of the death of Pope John XXIII. Here, last weekend, the assassination of President Kennedy caused cancellation of social events planned in honor of the Spanish officials.

In May of 1960, the then Senator John F. Kennedy and his wife, Jaqueline, attended Mass at the Mission during a three-day visit here at the time of his birthday.

Father Serra died and is buried in the Basilica.
